

MOOC 2 – Unit 5 Supervision of Complex Interventions

Chapter 5 Conclusion

Developed by University of Presov, Slovakia

Co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

The European Commission support for the production of this publication does not constitute an endorsement of the contents which reflects the views only of the authors, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein.

Chapter 5: Conclusion

In the process of teaching new supervisors it is useful to:

- Teach about what supervision is and what it is not;
- Teach and train principles, structure, and methods of supervision;
- Teach about the main function and benefits of supervision (what is helpful and what is not);
- In the context of trauma, not only general principles of supervision are necessary to teach but it is also necessary to teach specifics of trauma-informed care and trauma-informed supervision;
- In the process of teaching of supervision it is very important to offer a lot of practical tools, exercises, examples, etc., not only rich and clear theoretical background.